Concession Recovery Fee (CRF)

The Concession Recovery Fee applies to rentals that take place at most Avis airport locations in Australia and varies between 5% and 15%.

The fee is payable directly to Avis at the time of rental by the renter and may not be included in Avis Tour Rates.

Excess

The amount the renter is liable for in the event of loss or damage to the Avis vehicle or Third Party Property.

Excess Reduction (ER)

In the event of damage or loss occurring to the Avis vehicle and/or Third Party Property (regardless of who is at fault and as long as the Renter and Authorised Driver(s) has complied with the terms and conditions of the Avis Rental Agreement), by accepting and paying for ER the renter can reduce the excess amount for that loss or damage.

This does not apply to damage or loss not covered in the terms and conditions of the Avis Rental Agreement.

How to obtain Excess Reduction

The renter signs the Excess Reduction acceptance on the Avis Rental Document and pays the additional per-day charge.

Kilometre Allowance

Most leisure rates in Australia include unlimited kilometres in metropolitan and country areas. In remote areas rates include limited kilometres and excess kilometres are charged @ 27.5 cents per kilometre. Although Northern Territory is classified as a remote area some rates include unlimited kilometres.

Loss Damage Waiver (LDW)

LDW is the insurance coverage provided on the rental vehicle and Third Party Property which is subject to the Excess. LDW is also subject to terms and conditions detailed on the rental agreement.

Maximum Age

No maximum age applies.

Minimum Age

The minimum age limit in Australia is 21 or 25 years of age depending on type of rate and car group.

Miscellaneous Charges

Miscellaneous charges are one-way rental fees, tax, kilometre charges, concession recovery fee, vehicle registration fee, petrol deposit, etc which are subject to change without prior notification. Generally these cannot be prepaid.

One-Way Rentals

A rental vehicle being driven from one city and returned to an Avis location outside of that city. Rentals within the metropolitan area are not considered One-Way Rentals.

Optional Charges

Excess Reduction, Child Safety Seats and any other additional products purchased at the time of rental are payable directly to Avis by the renter and are subject to change without prior notification.

Petrol

Avis rental vehicles are supplied with a full tank of petrol. If the renter returns the vehicle with less than a full tank of petrol a refuelling service fee will be charged.

Rental Validity

Rates are calculated on 24 hour periods.

Tax

In Australia a state tax/administration fee (approx. 3%) and a 10% Goods and Services Tax (GST) apply to all rentals.

Note: State Tax inclusion is only applicable under the current tax legislation and should this be revised we reserve the right to review our rates.

Vehicle Registration Fee (VRF)

Vehicle Registration fee applies to all Avis rentals in Australia. The fee is payable directly to Avis at the time of rental by the renter and may not be included in Avis Tour Rates.

Australian Distances

Australia is the perfect place for car rental holidays

Being such a huge country - about the size of continental USA, this sometimes means travelling hundreds of kilometres between major cities. In outback areas, it may be hundreds of kilometres between towns so it is important the driver of the vehicle is well rested before starting a long trip.

Be realistic about travel time and what is to be seen. Allow at least 12-14 hours to drive 1000 kilometres. This does not include breaks, however, we recommend taking a break every two hours. Avoid driving late at night or early in the morning.

The main highways and arterial roads are well-paved. All signposts are in kilometres (1km = 6/10 of one mile).

This chart is a guide to the distances between major cities and tourist centres.

Road Rules/Tips

Driving on the left

In Australia driving is on the left side of the road, the same as in Britain. The steering wheel and the pedals are on the right side of the car.

Maximum Speed Limits

Speed limits in Australia vary. However they are clearly signposted and are in kilometres. Below is a guide only with a conversion from kilometres to miles.

	Australia
Country Roads and Highways	80-110 km/h
	49-68 m/h
Cities and Towns	40-60 km/h
	24-37 m/h

Seat Belts

Must be worn at all times when travelling (including rear seat belts).

Driver's Licence

Drivers must have held a Non-Provisional Australian or Overseas driver's licence for at least 12 months. Note: If the Overseas driver's licence is not in English it must be accompanied by an International Driver's Permit in English. Ask Avis for full details.

Petrol

Petrol is sold by the litre at approximately AU$1.20 per litre in Australia - higher prices in remote and country areas.

Most petrol stations take major credit cards.

Time Zones

Australia has three times zones: Eastern Standard Time (EST) on the east coast, Western Standard Time (WST) on the west coast, and Central Standard Time (CST) in the middle (South Australia and the Northern Territory).

CST is 30 minutes behind EST and WST is 2 hours behind EST. For example when it's 6pm in Sydney, it's 5.30pm in Adelaide and 4pm in Perth - this may vary during Daylight Saving.

Australia is 10 hours ahead of GMT.

Daylight Saving

Australia - some states introduce daylight saving during summer, moving the clock forward one hour. New South Wales, Australian Capital Territory, South Australia, Tasmania and Victoria have daylight saving from October until late March. No daylight saving applies in Queensland, Western Australia or Northern Territory.

Tolls

Melbourne - With the introduction of electronic tolls to city link roads in Melbourne, please advise the Avis Rental Sales Agent should you require an ETAG, as the roads do not have toll booths.

Sydney - A number of the motorways in Sydney are electronic tolls only and do not have toll booths. For advice please see an Avis Rental Sales Agent on collection of your vehicle.

Road Side Assistance

At Avis it's important to us that you enjoy reliable and hassle free motoring. That's why all Avis cars are professionally maintained and undergo a stringent 48 point quality check guaranteed to provide you with trouble free travel. For your peace of mind Avis offer a 24 hour Roadside Assistance Helpline - Free Call 1800 063 973.

Long Distance Driving

Long distance driving fatigue is a problem when travelling the huge expanse of Australia. Make sure you have regular breaks and stop at least every two hours.

Road Trains

Treat road trains with respect! They are a common sight on Northern Territory roads and can be up to 53.5m in length. Look for at least one kilometre of clear road before attempting to pass.

Road Signs

Road signs are based on internationally recognised symbols, but with local variations. Particularly where local wildlife is prevalent, these will be different and unusual signs.
